

Takes True Grit....

Finally... the stories and secrets from the women who did it: work, succeed, pave the way for others to triumph. What did it take? What did they conquer? And where would you be if it weren't for them? Many of these women were the first in their fields and some are now retired, ready to share their past, their secrets, and their personal stories. They have decided it is time to speak out... to candidly share what happened to them because they were women. It is important not to forget. But most people have.

Join the "You Pave the Way" program with author and television & radio personality Edie Hand along with her corporate friends to explore these challenges addressed in her book with co-author Tina Savas "Women of True Grit". Edie and friends will assist in instilling values to encourage mentorship so you can stand where others have stood and

- Re-discover your PASSION
- Learn PERSERVERANCE is paving the way
- Find POSITIVE PROJECTION of ones image to help remind us of the hope that lies within
